Written by Addy Kirby

Jenna Stone, now Jenna Anthony, is a Viking that is following her dreams right in Edgewood, Iowa after graduating in the class of 2011. Jenna is the project manager for Kendrick Home. Jenna currently resides in Strawberry Point with her husband. Her family influenced her decision to stay close to home. When asked how she got where she is today she commented, "I started at Kendrick, Inc. as an intern in marketing. My boss recognized my skills and I continued to grow within the company. Since I am very organized, I took over her role of scheduling for production." Go Vikings!
