

Patty Clark, Class of 1973
Alumni Articles
By: Mika McCool

Patty (Ridenour) Clark was a part of Ed-Co's Class of 1973. Patty is a Travel Executive. After graduating, she entered the travel industry, became a mom, and lived in Kansas City, Omaha, and Chicago. "My career developed as I met the right contacts and had opportunities open up for me. I feel quite blessed on where my career took me." Patty now resides in Strawberry Point to be close to her family and to plan for retirement. During her time at Ed-Co, her favorite part was the friendships. When asked to give a piece of advice to current students Patty says, "Don't be afraid to leave the area and explore opportunities and dreams! The community will be here and will welcome you back." How far will this Viking go?
