

Ed-Co Alumni
Tony Every - Class of 1987
Written by Addy Kirby

From small Colesburg, Iowa to a United States Secret Service Officer in Washington D.C., Tony Every graduated in 1987. He first attended college and then entered the military. While he was in the military he learned of the opportunity to work for the Secret Service. Tony is now retired from the Secret Service, and currently resides in Colesburg and Des Moines. His favorite part about Ed-Co is the sports, teachers, and fellow classmates and students. "Time flies, enjoy it. There will be hard times. Enjoy the times as they are happening," stated Tony. This Viking accomplished something he had never been aware of. He went from a town of less than five hundred people to working at the capital of the United States! What will the next Viking do?